Dennis Schröter:

I'm really disappointed: I had a good qualification not even 1 sec. behind the fastest and a good start into the first race. I was 5th for a while and felt comfortable with the pace, but then made a stupid mistake at the end of the start straight and crashed. I regrouped in 15th position and worked my way back up to 11th. I was angry about my mistake but happy with my riding. My start into the second race was terrible and then I was riding like an absolute beginner. It's really sad, as I ruined what could have been a good weekend.

Michael Kaussen:

I was 0.6sec. too slow in timed practice to qualify directly for the main races so I had to do the LCQ. I finished 8th. which meant I was 2nd reserve for Sunday. I didn't get to race the first heat and had a bad start into the second one. I had to start from the very outside, where it was full of stones. I gave it all I got but only finished 30th.
