Dennis Schröter:

This really was a fun track. The traction on the grass part was so good that you could lean over the bike in the berms that it felt like 90°. Unfortunately I also crashed this way after the first lap when I was leading: The footpeg hooked up in the ground and sent the rear wheel over the berm...

Kornel was simply too fast for me today, but I could close the gap to Alexandre constantly until my pit stop, whereas he continued with a bigger tank. Towards the end of the race I was right on his tail again, but couldn't pass him.

My goal was a podium finish, so I'm not really disappointed with the outcome.
